

BATH HALF

10-week Wheelchair Training Plan

How to use this plan

Training for a half marathon as a wheelchair user can be very different to training for the distance as a runner. Wheelchair users will have other factors that impact their training and fitness levels, such as whether they are a full-time or part-time user, length of time as a wheelchair user and involvement in other physical activity.

If you are a full-time manual wheelchair user you will push your chair every day and therefore will be exercising your arms, which will help your strength and fitness. If you participate in other sports such as wheelchair basketball or rugby, then you may feel you can switch out one of the weekday sessions for your regular training session. Sessions are likely to vary for each person, for example a session can be harder if there are more inclines and hills within your chosen route. It's good to include some hill training as this will help strengthen your arms.

Different types of training

EASY PUSH

The purpose of an easy push is to spend time in your chair, which will help you improve your stamina. Focus on covering the distance or time instead of focusing on the pace you are pushing at. An easy push will be different for different wheelchair users, but it should feel slightly faster than your everyday pushing speed. As you progress through the Training Plan you should feel your easy push speed increase, if this is the case go with whatever pace feels comfortable. The purpose of an easy push workout is to improve fitness and complete the distance or time allocated for the session.

STEADY PUSH

A steady push is designed to replicate Event Day and help improve your overall stamina to complete the distance. Try and build up to a pace that you could maintain for the time or distance asked in the plan. You may prefer to mix up a steady push with some fast pushing and some easy pushing at regular intervals. For example, you could fast push for five minutes and then easy push for one minute over the course of the session.

WEEK 2	Fuelling your body Here are our top three foods to help aid your recovery and rebuild and repair those muscles after every run: 1. Watercress Not just garnish – watercress is an established big-hitter for recovery and damage limitation. The peppery leaves contain hefty amounts of iron, vitamin C and calcium and are a great way to liven up a salad. Eat: Whenever you can 2. Alcohol-free beer Contains powerful antioxidant phenols: a German study showed runners who were given non-alcoholic beer for three weeks before the Munich Marathon suffered less inflammation afterwards than a placebo group – and probably fewer headaches too! Drink: In the lead-up to the event 3. Apples Among many good things, apples contain quercetin, an anti-inflammatory antioxidant.
